

Need personal finance training for teachers and/or educators to improve their subject matter knowledge and teaching skills?

Sponsor a Personal Finance Boot Camp!

The New Jersey Coalition for Financial Education (NJCFE) will send a team of two experienced financial educators to your school, non-profit agency, organization, or professional conference to conduct a highly-evaluated teacher training program. You do the marketing, registration, and local arrangements (copying, ordering free materials, and arranging a training location and meals) and we'll do the rest! Boot Camp is a teacher-tested, "turnkey" training format that increases participants' financial knowledge and skills.

Personal Finance Boot Camp consists of presentations about both personal finance subject matter content and interactive teaching methods. Sessions are engaging as participants "learn by doing" and personally experience the same activities that they will teach others.

Two program formats are available:

One-Day Personal Finance Boot Camp:

Five short "subject matter chunk" presentations followed by five sets of interactive teaching methods interspersed throughout the day.

Two-Day Personal Finance Boot Camp:

Short subject matter content presentation and teacher preparation of PowerPoint games each morning followed by interactive teaching methods each afternoon. Participants leave with files for the games that they create during the process of learning financial content.

Cost:

$ 3,500 plus travel expenses- One-Day Personal Finance Boot Camp

$ 5,000 plus travel expenses- Two-Day Personal Finance Boot Camp

For information about Boot Camp programs held in New Jersey, see www.njcfe.org To arrange a Boot Camp presentation, contact Dr. Barbara O'Neill at oneill@aesop.rutgers.edu or Carole Glade at caroleglade@gmail.com or Dr. Deborah Figart at Deb.Figart@stockton.edu.